ANUDAL QUALITY POLICY

The Management of ANUDAL considers quality to be the cornerstone of all business processes. For this reason, Quality and Management occupy a prominent place among its objectives, aligned with the defined strategy for business development. Since 1997, Anudal has developed and implemented a Quality and Service Management System in accordance with the requirements of the ISO 9001:2015 standard. This serves as an organizational and methodological framework for the continuous improvement of all business processes.

Who we are

Anudal specializes in the manufacturing of accessories for aluminum joinery, including brackets, joints, punch presses, subframes, handles, special machining, supports, anchors for curtain walls, and structures for photovoltaic solar energy. Most of these are proprietary products; designed, patented, and manufactured by Anudal.

We provide solutions for the assembly of aluminum joinery and offer technical advice to help customers select from more than 2,500 references tailored to different joinery profiles.

Our national and international customers have trusted us for over 30 years. We build loyalty through personalized attention, exceptional service, and high-quality products.

Areas of Application

- Product development and continuous improvement: Our R&D department designs new products under continuous improvement procedures, adapting to the needs of each customer, market segment, or country. The technical department focuses on the proactive creation and design of new models aligned with emerging market trends.
- Human Resources: Internally, we are committed to diversity and a dedicated team. We emphasize continuous training and promote versatility to adapt swiftly to change.
- Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR): We actively promote CSR both inside and outside the company. Anudal collaborates with various NGOs and charitable organizations, driven by its commitment to the values that have made it not only a leader in the industry but also a respected company with a strong social commitment. For us, CSR goes beyond legal regulations; it stems from the personal values and beliefs of our owners and executives, giving the company its “soul” and inspiring teams to understand the importance of cooperation.
- Legal Requirements: Anudal is firmly committed to compliance with all applicable legal frameworks.

QUALITY POLICY

- Environmental Responsibility: Anudal has undertaken a strong commitment to implementing an environmental policy for the 2022-2027 period, going beyond legal requirements to contribute to a sustainable present and future for society. The ANUVERD Internal Committee has been established to oversee an action plan based on the following pillars:
 - Reducing waste
 - Responsible manufacturing
 - Bringing sustainable products to market
 - Social awareness

“Striving every day to deliver the best service and quality to our customers”
